Naphtha soaps can be used was in Boston as travelling passenger agent for the Union Pacific. He began working for that railroad ter. Sunny Monday laundry when he was 18 years old, at Barton, soap does its work, no matter life. For the past 17 years he had what kind of water you usehard, soft, cold, luke-warm, hot or boiling; it also softens hard water.

Sunny Monday will not shrink panied his remains to Vermont. woolens or flannels, and will not fade the colors in colored goods. It will

THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY CHICAGO

LOCAL GATHERINGS.

(Continued from page 1.)

by mail to the individual voters they can were born four children, two sons wifely arts did not surprise Benjamin be obtained two days before the caucus and two daughters. One daughter, in the least. Everything Dorinda atat the Town Clerk's office, at D. C. Stiles' Lucy B., Mrs. John H. Robbins of tempted was a pronounced success, exstore, at R. E. Blodgett's at St. Johns- Springfield, Mass., died four years cepting perhaps the capture of Benjabury East, and at M. D. Parks' at St. ago. The three surviving children Johnsbury Center, and at the town hall are: Mrs. Hattie M. Bumpers of paned was Pentamin's fault have been admitted: Mrs. C. E. Shaw of is also survived by his wife, three and dainty. Her eyes were blue like Whitefield; Mrs. May McCosco, Mrs. N. brothers, and one sister, and four the "ragged sailors" that bordered the R. Young of St. Johnsbury; V. L. Whitte- grandchildren. He was a member dusty roadsides. Benjamin had wormore of Albany; and these have been dis- of Chamberlin Post, No. 1, G. A. R., shiped Dorinda from his boyhood, but charged: Mrs. E. D. Fisher, Miss Leone having enlisted from this town in he had never dared address her beyond Aberneathy, Mrs. Cecil Dunbar, Mrs. Co. A, 10th Vermont regiment, and the merest commonplaces. There had William Heath, Mrs. Milo Brown, John served during the three years of the Riley, Mrs. Robert Fisk, St. Johnsbury; war. A sunstroke during service was mever been but one thought behind his Mrs. C. D. Currier, Lyndonville; E. H. the cause of his ill health during worship of her, and that was to ask Kennison, Newport; Ernest Allard, North the past years. Troy; L. F. Bailey, Wells River.

be this week Wednesday evening tiful floral offerings from the G. A. from G. A. R. Hall at 7.30 sharp. Dr. Richmond will lead the tramp. . Refreshments and an entertainment will follow in G. A. R. Hall,

-Members of St. Johnsbury Council, U. C. T., celebrated the success of their first food fair on Friday night after the fair at a banquet in Pythian hall.

-The ground hog couldn't have seen his shadow on Candlemas Day to save his life and the thunder and lightning in towns south of here would indicate that our winter was over. There must have been a mistake somewhere for the coldest weather of the season came Monday morning reports varying from 35 to 40 degrees below zero.

-The trustees and directors of the Fairbanks Museum have invited the members of the Commercial club with their wives and friends to meet the Museum on Tuesday evening, Feb. 14. An illustrated talk on "The Museum an Asset of St. Johnsbury" will be given after which there will be an opportunity to inspect the building and exhibits.

IT'S JUDGE PORTER NOW. Will Preside Over Caledonia County Municipal Court.

The new Caledonia county muni-Jan. 27, under Judge David E. Porter Mr. Jackson's place. It sits Mondays at Hardwick, Tuesdays at Lyndonville, and Wednesdays W. C. T. U. MEETING. at St. Johnsbury. For the present it is held in Judge Porter's office here and the places of holding in the Lizzie Sulloway, last week Tuesday other towns of the county have not afternoon. Mrs. B. W. Spaulding had a municipal court for some time. of Mrs. T. P. Farrell. In the ab-When the subject of having one here sence of Secretary M. L. Brown was agitated it was deemed best to of the Y. M. C. A., Arthur F. Stone make it a county municipal court, substituted giving a very interesting hence the name "Caledonia County and instructive talk on the "Power Municipal Court." Stated terms of of Journalism." He especially emcourt have to be held and other phasized the fact that the power of terms as the court finds necessary journalism was never stronger. diction is broader than that of the wonderfully good in their influence rings, justice of the peace and includes for prohibition. Editors of many civil matters up to $500 and all crim- magazines have shown personal ininal offences except of the highest terest in this subject and the results grade. The salary of the judge is have been gratifying. Readings by $1000 with civil fees in addition and Mrs. J. J. McGill, "Freckled Face allowances for expenses and places of Little Girl" and "The Deacon's rassed by her voluble thanks, he sub- cock?" holding court. This does not pre- Grievance;" a piano duet by Misses mitted his own hand to her grasp. vent justices of the peace from try- Susie and Ethel Perowne; a vocal ing civil cases nor criminal cases solo, "The Plains of Peace" by Miss but under another law of this legis- Susie Perowne and two readings, lature wherever there is a municipal "John Burns of Gettysburg" and court a justice of the peace can col- "The Twins" given by Miss Ethel lect no fees except in certain cases Perowne, were greatly enjoyed and when a municipal judge is not ob- added much to the afternoon's pro-court will probably be that it will gave a description of Santa Barbara prevent many ordinary cases reach- and its beautiful surroundings. The his hand, a film seemed to drop over golden bird on it." ing county court. There will be no business meeting followed and closed additional expense to the state be- with the benediction. It was voted cause all court fees heretofore assess- to hold a food sale in the vestry of ed in criminal matters by trial jus- the Methodist church the first Saturtices will hereafter be assessed the day in March. same and paid into the state treasury and will probably be enough to pay the expense of running the mun-

DOINGS AT THE ACADEMY.

The Colonial Saturday evening. They gave a selection called "The Bag-

The Adelphian meeting of last Saturday evening, as most of the is not seriously injured. members wished to go to the food fair was postponed. The glee clubs gave a concert at Lyndon last Friday. The people of be out. Lyndon enjoyed it very much and so did the members of the clubs.

A petition to have the study hours of Saturday evening suspended was other places. handed Dr. Benedict last Thursday. As it was signed by most of the old folks' concert Thursday evenschool, he and the faculty gave it ing at the church. A fish chowder due consideration.

GIFT BY T. N. VAIL. given to the Presbyterian church of Whippany, N. J., between 30 and 40 Fair at St. Johnsbury, Friday. acres of land as an addition to the church cemetery. He has bought a farm adjoining in order to carry out his plan. His parents, his first wife, and a son are buried in the cemetery there

RECENT DEATHS

Harvey.
The remains of Alfred C. Harvey were brought here Saturday morning and taken to St. Johnsbury East for interment. He is remembered here as ticket agent for the Passumpsic railroad from 1871 for several years after. Before coming he was station agent at Barton, and at Lyndonville, and after leaving here he and had followed the work all his been district passenger agent for the Great Northern at Philadelphia. He was born at Bridgeport, Nov. 13, 1841, and died at the home of his son, Carlyle B. Harvey, in East Orange, N. J., after two weeks' illness with a shock. His son accom-at Waterbury for the past eight double the life of your clothes and is years, died there, Thursday as a rethe most economical soap you can use. sult of a shock, and the body was brought here Saturday for burial. The funeral was held at his home in Summerville Sunday afternoon, Rev. Charles Smith of the Advent ago, and came to St. Johnsbury even in his father's generation. about 45 years ago. He was married to Miss L. E. Burbank at Island Springfield, Mass., John B., and Her--At Brightlook hospital these patients bert W. Cable of Lyndonville. He

The next snowshoe tramp will ed his funeral and there were beau- He knew he wanted Dorinda and he R., and neighbors.

TOWN CAUCUS FEB. 18. But Few Contests in Sight for Town Officers.

A town caucus, irrespective of party, is called by the selectmen, the citizen's town committee, the republican town committee and the demclerk, selectman for three years, town treasurer, overseer of poor, first constable and collector of taxes, lister for three years, three auditors, jurors, school director for three realized, defend suits for the town.

selectman expires this spring has, at the earnest solicitation of several for reelection as overseer of the poor. Horace Jackson is willing to serve another term as road commissioner Luman A. Ladd and M. J. Hovey are also said to be anxious to qualify as hicles of every description were hudcipal court has been in session since expert road builders and serve in dled in confusion, amid the cry of side-

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. led the devotional exercises and the Every other town of this size has afternoon's program was in charge

Sylvester in her Scottish dances at her school in Burke and is at home. The roof of the saw mill owned by Charles Hill & Son collapsed Saturday night owing to the heavy snow. It is hoped the machinery Carl Locke who was a victim of a coasting accident two weeks ago, hastily. breaking his collar bone, is able to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alston returned from their wedding trip Wednesday. They visited Boston and supper will be served in the vestry

Theodore N. Vail, of Lyndon has tyen to the Presbyterian church of Griswold, Mrs. J. A. Winslow, and Mrs. G. W. Dodge attended the Food

> Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

The Bird Of Fortune

A County Fair Ended a Prolonged Wooing

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press

The county fair was in full swing. laughter and merrymaking as well as loop-the-loop and a merry-go-round color and music and light. Today was andthe day of days. Prizes had been awarded, and such was the wisdom Thomas S. Cable, who has been and tact of the judges that no exhibitor had gone unrewarded. Benjamin Dibble had taken first prize for his fine Holsteins and second prize for the mountainous Chester hogs. These honors meant nothing to Benchurch officiating. Mr. Cable was jamin, for they were conferred upon born in Eaton, Canada, 73 years his stock every year and had been tween them.

The fact that Dorinda Weed had -In lieu of sending the town reports Pond about 42 years ago. To them captured all the first prizes in house > Dorinda Weed was sweet and fair never been but one thought behind his her to marry him. Of the preliminary A good number of veterans attend- months of wooing he gave no thought, intended to ask her outright to marry him some day when his backbone felt a little more rigid and when his ears had ceased to redden at her approach. But no miracle had been performed, and Benjamin had lived wretchedly on. mentally cursing his shyness.

Now, Dorinda was thirty-two and Benjamin was forty. Their parents ocratic town committee, to be held were dead, their lands adjoined, and at the Town Hall, Saturday, Febru- their two houses, each one small and ary 18, to place in nomination the detached, might be moved to a new following officers: Moderator, town site on the apex of the dividing hill between the farms and thus become a large, comfortable farmhouse. This plan was Benjamin's sweetest dream, trustee of public money, two grand but there was no sign of its being years, road commissioner for one Benjamin paused one instant in front year, and an agent to prosecute and of the domestic exhibit and furtively adored Dorinda's toothsome display From there he wandered out to the building where his cattle were quarstrong business men, consented to tered, and he arrived just in time to be a candidate for re-election. Some see Dorinda Weed timidly stroking the of the friends of Conrad F. Beck are | nose of one of his mild eyed Holsteins. mentioning his name for the place. From afar he watched her blissfully, W. H. H. Robie will be a candidate and his heart rose exultantly when she passed on quite unobservant of the other exhibits.

Out in the open spaces where veshow barkers, the conglomerate smell of quick lunch carts, the odor of fresh popcorn and steamed clams, Benjamin stumbled over the gypsy caravan. Here In a gayly festooned tent a gypsy crone was telling fortunes.

"Kind gentleman!" she hailed him eagerly. "For silver I will reveal the future! I reunite broken hearts! I make you successful in love!" She held back the tent flap invitingly, and under the spell of some sudden impulse Benjamin Dibble entered and sat down on a small three legged stool. The gypsy knelt before him and held

"Silver!" she wheedled softly. Blushingly Mr. Dibble extracted a silver quarter from his pocket and

She bent her dark, disheveled head clously. above its toil hardened surface for sevgood looking face with piercing eyes.

"What else?" demanded Benjamin eagerly.

The woman arose to her feet and looked toward the door, where a little crowd had gathered, waiting for an audience. "It is enough-the rest you must do-so it is written," she said

Benjamin thrust another quarter into her willing hand and pushed dizzily through the crowd, his heart beating at once like a surprise." riotously. The doggerel verse was min confessed himself perplexed. Little River boasted golden birds of "Into what, Benjamin?" whispered many varieties, from the Buff Cochins Dorinda. of the poultry yard to the yellow hammers and goldfinches of the woods and the captive caparles in cages. But one and all had nests of some sort, and the bird of Benjamin's fortune would appear to be as vagrant as the gypsy

The prophecy of the united houses was good fortune enough for one day, and, emboldened by this certainty that his dearest hopes would be fulfilled, Benjamin rushed hastily toward the building where Dorinda Weed might be found. She who was to be his future wife had stroked the nose of his prize Holsteins. After these wonderful happenings it would be an easy matter to invite Dorinda to partake of ice cream and cake. When one was eating ice cream it was not necessary to talk much, and after the ice cream he might invite her to other amuse-Everywhere there was bustle and ments in the grounds. There were a

> Benjamin Dibble stood stock still, while all exuberance of spirit dissolved

In the distance he saw Dorinda, charming in her pale blue gown, but remote as ever from his approach, for she was talking earnestly to a tall, dark man, a dangerously handsome dark man, a dangerously handsome evening at 7.30. Mr. Brown, secre-stranger, and together they were bend-tary of the Y. M. C. A. of St. Johnsing over some object on a table be-

Then it was that Benjamin Dibble remembered the gypsy's prophecythat a dark man would come between Dorinda and him. And here was the dark man. The prophecy was fulfilling without delay.

Benjamin turned away and tried to satisfy the pangs of disappointed love with hot frankfurters, steamed clams and coffee. He drank ginger ale and pink lemonade to wash down huge. segments of pie and sugary doughnuts. He spent money lavishly, buying everything that was offered. He purchased chances on all sorts of un- Springfield, vice-president of the known articles and afterward found Grand Lodge, was present. himself the embarrassed possessor of a pair of curling irons, a lady's work basket and a wax doll.

He bundled these treasures away in the back of his buggy with a certain elusive hope that they might prove useful some day. He stopped in the shed and stroked the noses of his cattle, as Dorinda had done, and derived ther, John Martin, a certain foolish satisfaction in the action. It was at that moment Benjamin received inspiration.

Back in the main building, Benjamin once more threaded the crowd in search of Dorinda. Although she was still talking to the dark man, Benjamin pressed forward until he stood almost at her elbow. She saw him and smiled tremulously, her delicate face flushing a soft rose

"Will you give me your advice, Benjamin?" she asked gently. "This gen-veyed by this question cannot be described. Benjamin Dibble threw off his old mantle of timidity forever and stepped boldly forward beside Dorin-

"Seems to me nothing looks so much like a weather vane as a crowing cock, Dorinda. Have you got anything else?" asked Benjamin of the dark

From the box of samples the man brought forth several weathercocks of different sizes. Each one was comb and wattles. He held forth the gaining slowly. largest one, whirling it about the pivot as he did so.

"This is the handsomest one I've got, sir. I'd like to take your order for that-$10 on delivery in ten days. You'd like to wake up in the morning and see that weathercock on the cupola of your barn-eh?" He smiled in- the first of last week, the guest of gratiatingly.

Benjamin Dibble was staring intenton particular occasions. Its juris- Newspapers today as a whole are out one brown hand, gay with silver sion dawning in his eyes. A certain ly at the gilded cock, a queer expresline was running through his head:

A golden bird without a nest Shall lead the weary heart to rest. "Dorinda," said Benjamin in a ring-dropped it in her palm, then, embar- ing voice, "do you like that weather-

"Yes, indeed," agreed Dorinda gra-

"We'll take one of those," ordered eral moments and then scrutinized his Benjamin Dibble authoritatively. "You can make out the bill to Mr. and Mrs.

take you home in my buggy tonight I'll tell you about the golden bird and how all this has come true, just as the woman said," explained Benjamin, talking faster and more eloquently than he had ever done in his life.

the time appointed.
Therefore, you are hereby notified to appear before said Court, at the time and place aforesaid, and contest the probate of said will, if you have cause, Given under my hand at St. Johnsbury in said District, this 4th day of February, A. D. 1911.

than he had ever done in his life. "It's all perfectly wonderful," murmured Dorinda on that homeward ride after Benjamin had related the gypsy's IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED prophecy. "I knew you liked me, Ben, but it seemed somehow as if you'd never get up courage to ask me. It's been a long time-and then to come all Wednesday. They visited Boston and other places.

The Ladies' society will give an old folks' concert Thursday evening at the church: A fish chowder supper will be served in the vestry of the entertainment.

Mrs. H. M. Knapp, Mrs. H. F. Griswold, Mrs. J. A. Winslow, and Mrs. G. W. Dodge attended the Food Mrs. G. W. Dodge Attended "I've seen an awful fool, I guess," "golden bird without a nest," Benja- and falling right over into"- He paused and groped for the right simile.

> He looked down into her soft blue eyes and, bending over, kissed her lips. "Into heaven, I guess," he murmured.

BARNET.

"Lincoln's Day" to Be Observed at The Church Sunday Evening. Next Sunday will be observed here as "Lincoln's Day." Rev. Mr. Clark will preach in the morning and in the evening he will give an illustrated lantern slide lecture on "Light and Darkness."

James Somers of East Peacham spent Sunday at Mrs. Kate Kinney's. The sick ones are nearly all better, Mrs. Eliot, and Mrs. Ella Johnson being the most seriously ill ones. The rollers started out last Mon-

There will be a meeting of the Missionary society at the parsonage Tuesday afternoon. Miss Clara Moore of Lisbon, N. H., spent Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. Emily Albee.

ed the Food Fair at St. Johnsbury

There will be the adjourned session of the church meeting at the church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Quite a number from here attend-last week. Miss Margaret Smith went to Barton last Monday. There will be a meeting of the Brotherhood at the church Friday George Hall who has been workbury, will speak on the subject, "The Brotherhood and the Boys." The ladies are invited.

(From another correspondent) Mrs I. J. Albee is still confined t

her bed with grip. Rev. W. C. Clark has organized mission class composed of the members of the grammar school to meet weekly at the parsonage. The book which the class will take up is entited "Under Marching Orders-A Story of Mary Porter Gamewell." Ruth Rebekah Lodge, No. 80, held a special meeting last Thursday evening at which four new members were initiated. Mrs. Stone of McINDOE FALLS.

Miss Alice Phelps and Miss Nellie Manchester left Thursday for Boston to spend two weeks with relatives and friends.

Willie Martin has been at home from Monroe, N. H., the past week on account of the illness of his fa- N. E. 412-13 W. H. Gilchrist returned Thursday from Charlestown, Mass., where he has been the past two months with his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Buswell. Miss Annie Aiken visited friends at St. Johnsbury Friday and Satur-Lawrence Harvey of West Barnet was a guest at W. M. Phelps' part of last week Leonard Phelps received a severe bruise on his wrist last Wednesday while at Jed Lavine's after a load of

The F. C. A. basket ball team of tleman is selling weather vanes. 1 St. Johnsbury played with the Red want one for the barn. Our old one Sox at Academy Hall last Wedneswas blown off, you know. Shall I day evening, resulting in a victory choose a fish or an arrow?" for the F. C. A. team 22 to 7. Don Judkins of Barnet has put electric lights into P. B. Van Dyke's store occupied by D. C. Farrington. Mrs. Eugene Field was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Choate, at West Barnet over Sunday. Ray, Gladys and Marion Hilliard went to West Burke Saturday to visit relatives. Clarence Chase was home last week sick. Mrs. McDonald came home from Lewis Renfrew's last week sick.

Mrs. Newton Whitehill, M. D. Hunt and Mrs. Charles Chase have been confined to the house by sickness. painted a dazzling gold, with crimson John Martin and John Buffam are Madeline Chamberlin has been in Woodsville, N. H., the past week visiting her uncle, George Chamber-Miss Lena Moore was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank Chase at Woodsville, N. H., over Sunday. Julia Smith was in East Ryegate her cousin, Orpha Bedell.

The Canadian Jubilee Singers will give an entertainment in the church Feb. 13th, under the auspices of the Ladies' society.

An Invitation. We invite you to try a box of Dr. Sias' Pile Pills. A single dose will relieve all inflammation and give 25c a box. Welcome B. Eastman, Reliable Pharmacist. 36 and 38 Bastern Ave., St. Johnsbury, Vermont.

Probate of Will. ESTATE OF CHARLES E. COX.

when a municipal judge is not obtainable.

The result of the existence of this court will probably be that it will arevent many ordinary cases reachage and account yourt. There will le no dditional expense to the state because all court fees heretofore assessed the me and paid into the state treasing and will probably be enough to ap the expense of running the municipal court.

OINGS AT THE ACADEMY.

The boys' glee club assisted Miss styrester in her Scottlish and served and an interference of the stream of the probably added much to the afternoon's program. A letter from the president, and added much to the afternoon's program. A letter from the president, Mrs. H. N. Turner, was read, which one you love. A dark man comes between. You will find happiness through a golden bird. Wait!" Still retaining make one, and we're going to build a new parm with a cupola and put this golden bird on it."

Why—why, Benjamin—I've thought with the benediction. It was voted to hold a food sale in the vestry of the Methodist church the first Saturday flow of the expense of running the munipal court.

OINGS AT THE ACADEMY.

The poys' glee club assisted Miss lyester in her Scottlish and served in criminal matters by trial justices will hereafter be assessed the me and paid into the state treasing in the probably be enough to appropriate the probably and probably be enough to appropriate the probably and probably be enough to appropriate the first Saturday of Pch. A. D. 1911, at the Probate Court, holden at St. Johnson with a cupola and put this golden bird on it."

Why—why, Benjamin—I've thought when the two houses up on the hill and make one, and we're going to build a pole of the two houses on the two houses on the two houses on the two houses on the two houses and being pright; you know, the probate Court for the pright; you know applied to the two houses and we're going to build a pole of the last William and we're

WALTER P. SMITH, Judge.

Bankruptcy Notice. STATES, FOR THE DISTRICT OF VERMONT

In the matter of Irvin Lambert, Bankrupt. Bankruptcy To the creditors of Irvin Lambert of Lyndon in the County of Caledonia, and District aforesaid, a bankrupt.

gefore said meeting.
G. C. FRYE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
7th, 1911,

Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

LYNDON.

of Richard Smith-Daughters of Liberty to Entertain.

Richard Smith died Monday at 2.20 at the home of C. B. Deos of grip and pneumonia, aged 82 years. ard Smith. Mr. Smith moved here from Canada Clarence six years ago and bought a place at the west end of the village. His wife dying two years after. Since his wife's death Mr. Smith has lived most of the time alone. short time Mr. Smith had lived here church will serve a Washington dinhe had won many friends. He leaves one adopted daughter, Mrs. Nettie Smith of Boston. The funeral services were held at the home of Mr. Deos Tuesday forenoon at ten o'clock, Rev. Mr. Lyster of Lyndon Center officiating. The interment was at Lyndon Center.

The Daughters of Liberty will give "The Spinster's Convention" at Mechanics hall Friday evening, Feb. 10. A dance and promenade will follow the play.
Mrs. George Withers of Hardwick spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher. U. S. Grant of Lyndonville has bought the Henry Frye place. Mr. and Mrs. Frye will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Grant.

ing in Massachusetts has returned The concert given by the girls' and boys' glee clubs of St. Johnsbury, was one of the best concerts ever given here. Miss Sylvester in a most pleasing manner won the hearts of all present in her several readings.

Following the concert the clubs were a promenade at:

Mechanics Hall. Mrs. Nettie A. Smith of Boston was called home last week by the serious illness of her father, Rich-Clarence Ford and Ida Nye were married at St. Johnsbury Saturday. After a brief wedding trip they will make their home with Mr. Ford's parents in Kirby. The ladies of the Methodist ner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wells Quimby, Wednesday, Feb. 22. Clyde Spencer of St. Albans spent several days last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spencer. Miss Lucia Grant of Tilton, N. H., was called home last week by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Eliza Grant.

Hazen Blood is very low at this writing at Brightlook hospital. I. A. Morrill has moved his harness and shoe shop from Mrs. Kennedy's house into the old Weeks block recently purchased by Scott N. Far-

Mrs. Scott N. Farnum is visiting her mother at Peacham. The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church will meet with Mrs. Joe Chayer. Wednesday after-

Job Printing

At this Office.

Satisfied Users are Coming Back

for a second, third, and fourth helping .of .our .COLONIAL WAGON PAINT, because it is just what they want. . Most of them ask for Wagon Blue, but we have other color: . Red Yellow, Black and Green.

> Ask the man who uses it. It costs $1.75 a gallon.

PECK COMPAN

Positively the greatest Garment Reduction Sale of the season

This ought to arouse you to Quick Action even if you had decided to go without a New Coat this season

Just Half Price

Thursday Morning February 9th

We have decided to make quick disposal of every Ladies' Cloth Coat left in our Stock (this season's styles). Beautiful Garments in Plain Kerseys, Cheviots, Choice Mixtures, etc. Black, Navy, Brown, Cardinal and Green. Sizes 32 to 45.

Our Spring Stock

must have the room that these Coats are occupying. There is no other alternative. You have read of various reduction sales going on in this vicinity recently at 20%, 25% and 33% discount. We shall go them one better and part with these Stylish Coats at just

50% Off from Original Prices

We mean exactly what we say. You may think we are getting desperate, and perhaps we are. Please note that conditions of sale are strictly Cash. No alterations and No refunds. Everything as represented and all sales final.

This is what it means

12.50 Coats 6.25 17.50 Coats 8.75 " 10.00 6.75 20.00 12.50 7.50 25.00 15.00

Lawrence P. Leach

and Company ST. JOHNSBURY, VERMONT

McCall's Patterns for March now ready